This network of furniture makers, specialist finishers and leatherworkers exemplify our talented offering, providing a variety of production solutions to meet budgets and demand.

"Neal and his team were fantastic to work with, providing a professional and enthusiastic service throughout the project. They produced stunning exterior furniture of outstanding quality, hand-crafted by talented British makers with meticulous attention to detail. I look forward to working with again soon".

Ludger Dohm | Director, Ludocon

"The uncertainty of engaging with new suppliers can be stressful and time consuming, but Neal Jones' great energy, enthusiasm and experience gave me the confidence to put my trust in them. They delivered to us quality, bespoke furniture on time and on budget without disappointment. I look forward to working with them again".

Sean Moran | Managing Director, Moran Yachts

"When we design something, we believe we have already achieved the result. We are wrong. We need someone to build what we have designed. Neal Jones is a professional who understands and executes precisely what we have in mind".

Aftercare & Maintenance

Bespoke furniture that has been meticulously designed and expertly crafted deserves to be cared for. Neal Jones Furniture are proud to offer a range of aftercare and maintenance packages tailored to the specific requirements of every client. These dedicated service packages have been specifically designed to preserve both the quality and longevity of your furniture.

Prior to our visit to any yacht in Europe, we will conduct a conference call with the principle crew member to gain a pre-visit report of each item. This will help us to understand the current state of the furniture, and if there are any additional treatments or requirements that we could look to carry out additionally during our visit.

We include a spare set of upholstered seats and backs as well as spare marine fabric. We also have in stock a range of hardware and fixings which can be sent out at very short notice for any emergencies.

Our furniture will be outstanding when delivered — that's our Neal Jones guarantee of excellence — but we think it is just as important that it retains that impact over the years to come. Sadly, accidents happen, and furniture does get damaged. Throughout the design process, we try to anticipate such potential damage and plan how it can be repaired.

Once on-board, we will carefully clean and buff all items of furniture, paying attention to the different materials involved, resulting in a rejuvenated finish.

Throughout the term of the care package there will be a dedicated telephone and email support to fulfil any repair or maintenance needs.

We are a service-driven company. To us, customer service means a great deal more than filling out a questionnaire at the end of a project. We recognise that our customer is like us, an important link in a chain providing service to the ultimate client purchaser. We see this chain as a 'partnership of service' and are committed to supporting our client in every way possible. Our aftercare packages reflect that commitment.

We will also provide a full assessment of each item of furniture, highlighting any damage or repairs that we would recommend. We would discuss this with the principal crew member, provide a quotation and arrange a follow-on visit.

Particularly important for marine and exterior furniture, our design, production and aftercare processes carefully consider marine environmental conditions to ensure that your furniture is sufficiently protected against the elements.
